How to Find Your Tax

File Number (TFN): A Complete Guide

Ah, the Tax File Number (TFN). For many, it's a bit of a mystery, a four-digit code that seems to pop up when you least expect it, usually during tax time or when you're starting a new job. But what exactly is it, and more importantly, how do you find your tax file number if it's gone walkabout?

Don't worry, you're not alone. Many people misplace their TFN or have never actually received one. This comprehensive guide is designed to be your go-to resource, packed with everything you need to know about locating that all-important number. We'll cover what a TFN is, why you need it, and most importantly, the various methods for finding yours.

What is a Tax File Number (TFN)?

Before we dive into the "how," let's quickly touch on the "what." Your Tax File Number (TFN) is a unique nine-digit number issued to individuals and organisations by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO). Think of it as your personal tax identifier. It's crucial for all dealings you have with the ATO, from lodging your tax return to claiming government benefits.

Without a TFN, you could be taxed at the highest marginal rate, miss out on crucial tax refunds, and generally make life a lot more complicated when it comes to your financial obligations and entitlements.

Why Do You Need Your TFN?

The importance of your TFN cannot be overstated. Here are some of the key reasons why you'll need it:

1. Lodging your tax return: This is the most obvious reason. You simply cannot lodge a tax return without your TFN.
2. Starting a new job: Your employer will ask for your TFN to correctly report your earnings and withhold the right amount of tax. If you don't provide it, they might have to withhold tax at the highest marginal rate.
3. Opening a bank account or investment accounts: Financial institutions often require your TFN for reporting interest and investment income to the ATO.
4. Applying for government benefits: If you're claiming income support payments from Centrelink, you'll need your TFN.
5. Superannuation: Your super fund needs your TFN to ensure it's correctly reporting your contributions and earnings.
6. Claiming tax deductions and offsets: While not directly required for every deduction, it's essential for the overall tax assessment process.

So, How Do You Find Your Tax File Number?

Alright, the moment you've been waiting for! If you've misplaced your TFN, or if you're unsure if you've ever had one, here are the most common and effective ways to track it down.

1. Check Your Previous Tax Documents

This is often the easiest and quickest way to find your TFN. Think back to when you last lodged a tax return. Where are those documents now?

1. Tax Return Notices: The ATO usually sends you a notice of assessment after you lodge your tax return. This document will clearly state your TFN.
2. Previous Tax Returns: If you use a tax agent or tax software, copies of your lodged tax returns should be readily available.
3. PAYG Payment Summaries (now called Income Statements): Before the advent of Single Touch Payroll, employers issued PAYG payment summaries. These will have your TFN on them. If your employer uses Single Touch Payroll, your income statement will be available through the ATO's online services.

Pro Tip: If you've used a registered tax agent in the past, they will also have a record of your TFN. A quick call to them might save you a lot of searching!

2. Look at Your ATO Correspondence

The ATO communicates with individuals regularly about various matters. Your TFN might be included in:

1. Letters from the ATO: This could be regarding any tax-related matter, from notices of assessment to debt reminders.
2. Other Government Agency Letters: Sometimes, if you've interacted with other government agencies that share information with the ATO (like Centrelink), your TFN might appear on their correspondence.

3. Check Your Superannuation Documents

Your superannuation fund is another entity that knows your TFN. You might find it on:

1. Annual Super Statements: Most super funds send out annual statements. Your TFN should be printed on these.
2. Welcome Letters from Your Super Fund: When you first join a super fund, the welcome pack or initial letters may contain your TFN.
3. Contribution Statements: Sometimes, statements detailing your contributions might also include your TFN.

4. Check Your Employer Records

As mentioned earlier, your employer will have requested your TFN when you started. While they can't give it to you (for privacy reasons), they might have it on file in a way that you can access it:

1. Employment Contracts: Some employment contracts or onboarding documents you filled out may have asked for your TFN.

2. Payroll Information: While they won't give you your TFN, your employer's payroll department might be able to confirm if they have it on record. However, this is less common for them to share directly. The best approach here is to check the documents you filled out for them.

5. Login to ATO Online Services (myGov)

If you have a myGov account linked to the ATO, this is an excellent place to access your tax information, including your TFN.

How to access it:

1. Create or login to your myGov account: If you don't have one, you'll need to register.
2. Link to the ATO: Once logged in, navigate to 'Link a service' and select the ATO. You'll need to provide some personal details to prove your identity.
3. Access your TFN: After linking, you can view your tax details by going to the ATO service. Your TFN should be clearly displayed on your profile or tax overview.

This is a secure and convenient way to manage your tax affairs and locate your TFN without having to search through piles of paper.

6. Contact the ATO Directly

If you've exhausted all other options and still can't find your TFN, the ATO is your final port of call. They can help you retrieve your TFN, but they have strict identity verification processes to protect your information.

How to contact them:

1. Phone: You can call the ATO on 13 28 61. Be prepared to answer a series of questions to verify your identity. These might include details from previous tax returns, personal information, and potentially information from your myGov account or other government interactions.
2. In Person: You can visit an ATO shopfront, but you'll need to bring specific forms of identification. It's best to check the ATO website for the most up-to-date requirements before you go.

Important Note: The ATO will never email you your TFN. If you receive an email claiming to be from the ATO with your TFN, it is a scam.

What If You've Never Had a TFN?

This is common for younger people who have just started their first job or for individuals who have recently moved to Australia and are applying for their first TFN. If you've never been issued a TFN, you need to apply for one.

How to apply for a TFN:

1. For Australian citizens and permanent residents: The easiest way is to apply online through the ATO website. You'll need your birth certificate or passport details.

2. For temporary residents (e.g., working holiday visas, student visas): You'll need to complete a specific application form and lodge it in person at a participating Australia Post outlet. You'll need to provide identification documents as well as proof of your visa status.

Key things to remember when applying:

1. The application process can take up to 28 days, so apply well in advance of when you need it.
2. You will receive your TFN by mail to your nominated address. Keep this letter in a safe place!

Protecting Your TFN

Once you find your TFN, or after you've been issued a new one, it's crucial to protect it. It's one of the most important pieces of personal information you have.

1. Keep it secure: Store it in a safe place, like a locked filing cabinet or a secure digital folder.
2. Don't share it unnecessarily: Only provide your TFN to trusted organisations that require it for official purposes (employers, ATO, banks, super funds, etc.).
3. Be wary of scams: Never give your TFN to someone over the phone or via email unless you are absolutely certain of their identity and legitimacy. The ATO will never cold-call you or email you asking for your TFN.
4. Shred sensitive documents: When disposing of documents containing your TFN, always shred them to prevent identity theft.

Let's address a few frequently asked questions to clear up any lingering confusion.

How to Find Your Tax File

Number (TFN): A Comprehensive Guide

For any Australian resident, a Tax File Number (TFN) is an essential identifier for tax and superannuation purposes. It's your personal reference number used by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) and other government agencies. If you're wondering, "How do I find my tax file number?", you're not alone. Losing or misplacing this crucial document can be a cause for concern, but the ATO has made it relatively straightforward to retrieve it. This detailed guide will walk you through various methods, ensuring you can locate your TFN securely and efficiently.

What is a Tax File Number (TFN) and Why Do You Need It?

Your TFN is a unique nine-digit number issued by the ATO. It's your permanent reference number throughout your life. You'll need it for:

- 1. Starting a new job: Your employer will ask for your TFN to correctly report your wages and withhold the correct amount of tax.
- 2. Claiming tax deductions and credits: To receive any tax benefits, you must provide your TFN.
- 3. Managing your superannuation: Your super fund will use your TFN to track your contributions and ensure correct reporting to the ATO.
- 4. Applying for government benefits: Some government payments and services may require your TFN.

5. Dealing with the ATO: Any correspondence or interaction with the Australian Taxation Office will involve your TFN.

It's vital to keep your TFN secure, as it's linked to your personal financial information. Think of it as your financial passport in Australia.

Where to Find Your Lost Tax File Number

The most common reason people search for their TFN is that they've misplaced the original documentation. Fortunately, there are several reliable avenues to explore. The ATO has several secure methods for TFN retrieval, designed to protect your personal information.

Check Your Previous Tax Documents

The first and often easiest place to look is amongst your past tax-related documents. Your TFN should be printed on:

- 1. Your original TFN application confirmation letter from the ATO.
- 2. Previous tax assessment notices issued by the ATO.
- 3. Your Notice of Assessment (NOA), which you receive after lodging your tax return.
- 4. Your payslips from previous employers (in some cases, though not all employers print it).
- 5. Your superannuation statements (your super fund may have recorded it).

Carefully go through any folders or files where you keep important financial documents. A quick search through your tax returns from previous years is often the quickest way to re-discover your TFN.

Contact Your Previous Employers

If you've worked for an employer in the past, they would have recorded your TFN to report your earnings to the ATO. While they are not obligated to provide you with a copy of your TFN, they might be able to confirm it for you if they still have your records. It's worth a phone call to the payroll or HR department of your former employers. Be prepared to provide them with identifying information to prove your identity.

Contact Your Superannuation Fund

Similar to employers, your superannuation fund will have recorded your TFN. This is because they need it to report your superannuation contributions and earnings to the ATO. Contact your super fund directly and ask if they can provide you with your TFN. They will have their own identity verification processes, so have your personal details ready.

Requesting Your Tax File Number from the ATO

If you've exhausted all other options or can't locate your TFN through past documents or employers, the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) is your primary resource. They have secure processes in place to help you retrieve your TFN.

Option 1: Phone the ATO

This is often the fastest way to get your TFN if you can satisfy their identity requirements. You can call the ATO's personal tax inquiries line on 13 28 61.

Be prepared to answer a series of questions to verify your identity. These questions are designed to confirm that you are indeed the owner of the TFN you are requesting. Common questions include:

- 1. Your full name (as it appears on ATO records).
- 2. Your date of birth.
- 3. Your Australian residential address.
- 4. Details from previous tax returns (e.g., income amounts, deductions claimed).
- 5. Details from your Medicare card or other government-issued documents.

6. Your mother's maiden name
(sometimes asked).

It's crucial to have as much of this information as possible readily available when you call. If you can't provide satisfactory answers, they may not be able to give you your TFN over the phone and may suggest alternative methods.

Option 2: Use the ATO Online Services
(MyGov)

If you have a MyGov account linked to the ATO, you can often access your TFN through your online portal. This is a secure and convenient method if you're already set up.

Steps to access via MyGov:

- 1. Log in to your MyGov account at my.gov.au.

- 2. Navigate to the 'Australian Taxation Office' service.
- 3. Once in the ATO section, look for options like 'Tax' or 'Profile'.
- 4. Your TFN is usually displayed on your profile or a dedicated 'Tax file number' section.

If you don't have a MyGov account, you can create one online. You'll need to link it to the ATO by providing personal details and information the ATO has on file, which may include aspects of your tax history.

Option 3: Visit an ATO Shopfront (Limited Availability)

In certain circumstances, you may be able to visit an ATO shopfront in person to get assistance. However, ATO shopfronts are not widespread and their services are often appointment-based. You will need to book an appointment in advance and bring at least two forms of identification. Check the ATO website for the nearest shopfront and their current service offerings.

Option 4: Mail or Fax Request (Less Common)

This is generally the slowest method and is usually reserved for situations where phone or online access is not possible. You can download a TFN application form (or a request for TFN details form) from the ATO website. You will need to complete this form with your personal details and mail or fax it to the ATO. Again, strict identity verification processes apply, and this method can take several weeks.

What if You've Never Had a TFN?

If you're new to Australia or have recently become eligible for a TFN, you'll need to apply for one. The process for applying for a TFN is different from retrieving a lost one. It involves a formal application, often done through your employer or by applying directly to the ATO.

Applying for Your First TFN

Typically, if you start employment in Australia, your employer will guide you through the TFN application process. They will usually ask you to complete a 'Tax file number declaration' form, which includes a section to apply for a TFN if you don't have one.

If you are not starting work but need a TFN (e.g., as a student or for other reasons), you can apply directly to the ATO by:

- 1. Completing the 'Application for a TFN' form (available on the ATO website).
- 2. Providing proof of identity documents as specified by the ATO.
- 3. Submitting the application in person at an Australia Post outlet that provides identity verification services or directly to the ATO by mail.

It's important to note that applying for a TFN for the first time is a separate process from finding a lost one.

Important Considerations for TFN Security

Your TFN is highly sensitive information. It's crucial to protect it from identity theft and fraud. Here are some essential tips:

- 1. Never share your TFN unnecessarily:
Only provide it to your employer, your superannuation fund, the ATO, and other trusted government agencies or financial institutions when legally required.
- 2. Be wary of unsolicited requests: The ATO will never contact you out of the blue and ask for your TFN via email, SMS, or social media.
- 3. Shred documents: When disposing of old tax documents or payslips, ensure they are properly shredded to prevent unauthorised access to your TFN.
- 4. Secure online accounts: If you use MyGov to access ATO services, ensure your account has a strong password and consider enabling two-factor authentication.

5. Check your tax records regularly:
Periodically review your tax assessments and superannuation statements to ensure all information is accurate and that no fraudulent activity has occurred.

Conclusion

Finding your Tax File Number (TFN) may seem daunting, but by following these steps, you should be able to retrieve yours. Start by checking your personal records, then reach out to past employers or your super fund. If all else fails, the ATO provides several secure channels, primarily through phone or MyGov, to help you reclaim your TFN. Remember, your TFN is a vital piece of your financial identity, so keep it safe and secure.

Key Takeaways:

- 1. Check old tax returns, NOAs, and payslips.
- 2. Contact previous employers and superannuation funds.
- 3. Call the ATO on 13 28 61 for identity verification.
- 4. Access your TFN via your linked MyGov account.
- 5. Apply for a new TFN if you've never had one.
- 6. Always protect your TFN from identity theft.

1	I've lost my Tax File Number (TFN) – what's the quickest way to get it back?	The fastest way to find your TFN is to check your old tax returns, payslips, or any official correspondence from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO). If you can't find it there, you'll need to contact the ATO directly. They will ask you a series of identity verification questions to confirm you're the rightful owner before providing it.

2	Is there a way to retrieve my TFN online if I've forgotten it?	Unfortunately, you cannot retrieve your TFN online by simply logging into an ATO portal. For security reasons, the ATO requires you to contact them directly and undergo an identity verification process to obtain your TFN, whether by phone or in person.
3	I'm starting my first job. When and how will I get my Tax File Number?	You need to apply for a TFN before you start your first job. You can apply online through the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) website. The application is free and usually takes about 14 days to process. You'll receive your TFN by mail.
4	What information do I need to have ready when contacting the ATO for my TFN?	To help the ATO verify your identity, have your full name, date of birth, address, and some personal details from your past tax records or other government documents (like your passport or driver's license details) ready. This could include things like your previous employer's name and address, or details from past tax assessments.
5	My parents applied for a TFN for me when I was a child. How do I find it now?	If your parents applied for your TFN, it should have been sent to them by mail. Check any old mail or documents they may have kept. If you can't locate it, you'll need to contact the ATO yourself and go through the identity verification process, as they will need to confirm your identity directly.
